

Speak Up When Something Feels Rushed

Safety is a team responsibility. If something feels rushed or unsafe, anyone on the crew should feel comfortable speaking up. A simple pause to review the plan or confirm the system status can prevent serious mistakes.

Looking out for each other is one of the most important parts of working as a crew