

Safety Message of the Day for IMEA Members

Communication Can Prevent a Tragedy

Clear communication is critical during emergency response operations. Every crew member should understand the hazards, their assigned responsibilities, and the work being performed. Maintain communication with dispatch, supervisors, and other crews, especially when switching, isolating, or restoring electrical circuits. Never assume someone else has completed a task or understands your intentions. A few seconds of communication can prevent a lifetime of regret.